TO THE

APPRENTICES' LIBRARY COMPANY

OF PHILADELPHIA.

IN submitting their Annual Report to the Company, the Managers of the Apprentices' Library feel gratified to announce the growing usefulness of the Institution, and that its affairs at this time are in a healthy and prosperous condition.

At the time when your Board were elected and assumed the control of its affairs, the dark forebodings of civil war in our happy country were discernible, and they have since been unfortunately realized. While we have been spared by a kind Providence from the devastating effects of a war in our own midst, yet the depression of all branches of business, the derangement in monetary affairs, and the prostration of industry and enterprise, have not been without their effects upon our Library.

In connection with this fact, we believe that many have enlisted, who would otherwise have partaken of the benefits of the Library, and this will tend to account for the falling off in the number of applicants, referred to elsewhere. The exciting events that are daily transpiring, have also a tendency to direct the mind from solid reading, and to give a preference to newspapers and other kindred sources of information.

Two hundred and twenty of the Girls have resigned the use of the Library during the year in consequence of their time being almost exclusively devoted to working for the government.

The number of books loaned during the past year, shows a large increase over the preceding one. From the Boys' Library, were loaned 21,140 volumes, against 18,374, for the year ending March 1st, 1861. From the Girls' Library, were loaned, during the same period, 37,126 volumes, against 29,068 the preceding year. While we have this gratifying increase in the number of books loaned, to record, we find that the number of new applicants to the Library, has on the contrary, decreased. The number admitted to the Boys' Library, during the past year was 630, against 950 the preceding year, and to the Girls' 1014, against 1434 for the twelve months ending March 1st, 1861. The decrease in the number of applicants has been somewhat in greater ratio than the increase in the number of books loaned, and your Board feel justified in accounting for it in this way. In regard to the Girls' Library, the active exertions and entire time of the Librarian, during the year 1860-61, brought a great many new readers to the Institution, and the present year commenced therefore with a much larger number using the Library than had done so previously, and this increase more than counterbalanced the diminution of new applicants. In the Boys' Library, a somewhat similar state of facts presented themselves; although not commencing the present year with so large an increase of readers over last, as in the Girls' department, yet the number was considerably increased. The fact is also worthy of notice, (as observed by the Librarian, and proved by the amount of fines received,) that the books have not been kept out, on an average, as long as has usually been the case; thus by renewing or returning them more frequently, it has largely increased the number of volumes loaned. In the Boys' department, a marked change in the class of reading has been observed. The exciting events of the times have led a great many to read histories, biographies and travels, in place of the lighter literature of the day. Lives of military characters and works on Government, have been much sought after.

There have been purchased and placed upon the shelves during the year, 261 new books in the Girls', and 200 in the Boys' Library, and 42 volumes have been received by donation. It has been a matter of deep solicitude and care, to exclude all hurtful books from the Library, and we believe none have been selected but such as are calculated to elevate the character, and afford innocent recreation and instruction. A new Catalogue for the Girls' Library is being prepared.

Your Board would earnestly recommend, that an effort be made to obtain additional members, and feel confident that the claims of the Library, when properly set forth, cannot fail to obtain the approbation and patronage of our citizens.

The Librarians and Assistants, in both departments at the commencement of our year, still remain with us, and we take pleasure in bearing testimony to the faithful and attentive manner in which they have discharged the trusts and duties confided to them. The general good order which has been observed in the conduct of those using the Libraries, has been also a marked and pleasant feature.

In conclusion, we commend our Institution under the care and direction of our successors, to the continued protection and favor of Divine Providence, whose blessings have hitherto been so bounteously vouchsafed upon its unostentatious labors.

Respectfully submitted,

By order of the Board.

T. BOWDLE, Secretary.
